

THIRD TERM MOVEMENT

President Convinced He Cannot Force Taft's Nomination.

OBJECT TO CONSERVATIVE

Considering Accepting Situation and Permitting His Name to Go Before the Convention—Ohio Result Has Influence.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—A crisis is approaching in the movement to force President Roosevelt into a third term nomination. Politicians on the inside of things realize the present uncertainty as to the president's intentions cannot continue many weeks, and in some fashion must be definitely removed.

That Secretary Taft is likely to retire from the presidential race is no longer disguised here. It is being much talked of in well informed quarters. Men close to the Taft situation and friendly to Taft admit that the outlook for his nomination is discouraging, and that his retirement is more than a possibility.

A strong indication of what is moving deep down in the political current is the probable hastening home of Secretary Taft across the Pacific and his abandonment of his trans-Siberian trip. He has been advised that his campaign is not progressing favorably.

Burton's defeat in Cleveland and the fact that through the Markbreit election in Cincinnati, the Fox-Forsaker element is firmly in the saddle there, are developments calculated not to smooth the way to a solid Ohio delegation for the secretary of war, and to have a weakening effect on the Taft candidacy out of the state.

When Secretary Taft gets back he will be subject to great pressure by third term forces to get him to quit the race. He will be informed that the third term forces are powerful and organized, that his own candidacy is making no

Excessive Drinking

Orrine Destroys The Craving For Drink Sold Under Positive Guarantee.

Excessive or continued use of alcoholic beverages always results in a diseased condition of the nervous system. The drinking man is often heard to say, "I can stop of my own free will and when I wish," but the poor fellow is now devoid of the power to act at the proper time and in the right way—it's too late, the craving has secured a firm hold and because of the diseased nervous system he has not the ability for sustained effort. The result we all know.

Drunkennes is no longer considered a crime; eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease and must be treated as such.

The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Orrine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not effect a cure your money will be refunded.

Orrine is in two forms. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Orrine No. 1, and if the patient will voluntarily take the treatment, Orrine No. 2 should be given. The guarantee is the same in either case. Orrine costs but $1.00 per box. Mailed in plain sealed wrapper on receipt of price. Write for free treatise on "Drunkennes" mailed in sealed envelope by The Orrine Co., Washington, D. C. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in this city by Rickert & Wells.

progress, and that in order to prevent the nomination of a conservative Republican and prevent the election of Bryan, Taft should step aside and make it practically impossible for Roosevelt to withstand the pressure on himself. On the other hand, President Roosevelt is being subject to tremendous pressure from members of Congress and others to induce him to again be a candidate. He is being told that he alone can beat Bryan, and that he owes it to the party to submerge his own personal wishes and run.

Not less important than this is the fact that the president has been looking closely into the Taft situation and has been getting plenty of advice that Mr. Taft's case is well-nigh hopeless, not because Taft is not liked, but because of the power of third-term sentiment.

Whether the president, down in his heart cherishes an ambition to succeed himself is a question that need hardly be considered. Leaving him out of the question, the fact remains that the third-term movement is being organized with great skill and great energy, many men close to the president being active.

First Assistant Postmaster-General Hitchcock has played a role of great importance. He has been charged with working covertly for Cortelyou. What he has really done is to organize federal officials and postmasters in the south, the southwest, and west, and wherever else possible, for a third term for the president. His work in this direction is declared to have been practically completed.

President Roosevelt is embarrassed deeply as to what he ought to do. He is giving the subject more serious consideration than he has probably ever done. He is losing hope as to Taft. There is, in fact, reason to believe he has lost hope almost completely and is aware of the difficulty of trying to push any other administration candidate. He is aware, too, that if he takes another term himself his popularity is almost certain to suffer. Yet he is intensely opposed to letting the nomination go to Fairbanks, Knox, Hughes, Cannon, or any man put in by conservative forces. What will he do about it?

Leaders in the third term movement declare they are convinced more surely than ever that the president will yield in the end and run again.

MELLEN TO PRESIDENT.

Urges Administration to Hurry Up R. R. Merger Inquiry.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Charles S. Mellen, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, called on President Roosevelt yesterday morning. After coming from the White House Mr. Mellen said that the object of his visit had been to urge the President to expedite the investigation now being carried on by the Federal Government regarding the merger of the New Haven road and the Boston & Maine.

"We are sure that we have not violated the law," said Mr. Mellen, "but it comes embarrassment and business uncertainty not to know what view of the matter the government is going to take."

Mr. Mellen said that he understood that the investigation was in the hands of District Attorney French of Boston. He said that all his company desired was that the investigation be concluded, and to this end he told the President that he would co-operate in every way with the federal authorities.

RUNS ON BANKS COME TO END

Trust Company of America and the Lincoln

QUICKLY MEET DEMANDS

One Has Paid Out $34,000,000—Long Statement Issued by Oakleigh Thorne—Trust Committee in Charge of Companies.

New York, Nov. 17.—Wall street sighed with relief when it met the financial king's announcement early yesterday that money will be supplied "up to the limit" to support the Lincoln Trust and Trust Company of America, upon which there have been runs of varying volume ever since the Knickerbocker suspended.

The two companies' affairs were generally understood to be under consideration when about forty financiers of national reputation gathered at J. P. Morgan's home Sunday afternoon. The continuation of the conference all Sunday afternoon and night and its resumption against Tuesday night made bankers and market operators nervous. There was a welcome relaxation in the strain when this statement was finally issued from the Morgan mansion at 3 a. m. yesterday.

"A committee of the trust companies of New York City has had the accounts of the Trust Company of America and Lincoln Trust Company examined by experts, who report that in their judgment and on the present basis of value the assets are sufficient to pay depositors in full. The necessary arrangements have been made to enable both companies to proceed with their business."

Oakleigh Thorne, president of the Trust Company of America, made the following statement yesterday:

"I think the time has now come to take the depositors, the stockholders and the public into our confidence. Months ago I was warned that there was danger of a period of financial distress coming upon us, and we set about putting our house in order. We promptly reduced our loans and increased our cash means to a point where we had a reserve largely in excess of the legal requirements when the crisis came."

"Altogether we have paid out since we began $34,000,000. The New York stock market opened regular with more advances than declines. Northern preferred started 1 1/2 and Northern Pacific 1 1/4 higher. St. Paul 26 and Reading and Smelter 2 1/2 higher. Anaconda and Canadian Pacific were unchanged. Southern Pacific opened 1/2 lower, Great Northern Ore 5/8, Erie and Copper 3/4 lower. As the end of ten minutes' trading the market was irregular, with indications of support in some leading issues."

The big steel pier of the North German Lloyd line at Hoboken was yesterday overflooded with policemen in uniform, city detectives, Pinkerton men, secret service men and armed guards. The big New York banks, all engaged in effecting the safe delivery of $7,000,000 from the vaults of the steamship Kron Princessin Cecile to trucks, which were to carry it to the relief of the banks of Wall street.

The gold, which was in bars of various sizes, was contained in 435 iron-bound boxes.

Omitted for First Time in 34 Years—Coin Now in Circulation.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The ten-dollar gold piece is out and in circulation. A fact that has caused great widespread comment is that for the first time in thirty-four years the words "In God We Trust" have been omitted from a United States superior to a quarter-dollar.

The new coin was designed by St. Gaudens and approved by the president, who took a deep interest in it; $1,000,000 worth are already minted.

BETTER THAN MEDICINE.

Breathes Hyomei's Tonic Healing and Be Cured of Catarrh.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh, a treatment that is far better than doing the stomach with medicine. It is the stomach which mediates the air you breathe, reaching the most remote cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

In using Hyomei you are treating your catarrhal troubles with the only natural remedy, for it gives a curative air bath to the air passages that has as powerful healing and antiseptic effect as that found in the mountains where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams.

Breathes the invigorating and healing Hyomei, and see how quickly you will get relief from your catarrhal troubles. Red Cross pharmacy has seen so many cures, even of the worst cases of catarrh, with effective breathers, raising of mucous, frequent sneezing, droppings in the throat and spasmodic coughing, that they feel warranted in selling Hyomei under an absolute guarantee to refund your money if it does not do what is claimed for it. They take all the risk.

MESTON ECLIPSES MODERN ATHLETES

Veteran Walker's Record of Forty Years a Champion Far Outshines Athletic Heroes of Today.

You talk about your Shrubb, Sheridans, Sheppards, Hillmans, and a few more, but the finest athlete in the world today is Edward Weston, the hale and hearty old walker, who starts from Andover, Conn., this morning to resume his Portland, Me., Chicago journey about in twenty-six days, says the New York Globe. The wonder of Weston's walk is the length of time that he has been "good." Can anyone imagine Martin Sheridan throwing the discus in creditable style in 1917, or Melvin Sheppard going through a two-minute half-mile forty years hence? And yet it is recorded that Weston walked from Boston, Mass., to Washington, D. C., during 1861, in 238 hours. A few weeks short of forty-seven years ago, and still in the ring doing his best work! What athlete in the world's history can match such a record as this!

Weston's wonderful record may be attributed to the fact he has led "Out-door exercise, coupled with absolute abstinence from tobacco and liquor have kept him young and full of vigor—even at the good old age of three score and nine. The feat he is performing from day to day now is a wonderful achievement, even for a young athlete, and the chances are Weston would make money every day if he were to compete with the runners of today in Portland-Chicago contests. Tom Longboat, who "waved in" while trying to run forty miles the other day, would prove easy picking for Weston in a 1,000-mile race, and the same applies to Sherring, the Athenian Marathon victor, and others of that class. The young runners would no doubt start off bravely, but in the end he would wear them down and win out handsily.

Reports from the towns Weston is passing show that forty years have not dulled his speed a particle. He has the same machine-like gait that won him the same old record in 1861, and he is not the slightest faster in the mad pace he sets. On Saturday night he pulled into Andover, Conn., more than thirty-three miles ahead of the record he made on the long walk forty years ago.

Weston's greatest walking feat was in England during the winter of 1884, when he walked fifty miles a day for 100 days, omitting Sundays. In October, 1888, Weston walked 100 miles in 22 hours 10 minutes and 10 seconds. In the same year he walked 1,000 miles over snowed roads in thirty days. Twenty-five years later (in 1913), Mr. Weston met a friend who remarked that he thought the veteran was getting old. This started Weston to thinking, and just to disprove the slur he got out and walked from Bowling Green, New York, to the state capital at Albany in sixty hours. The distance is 100 miles. Another great feat credited to Weston is 300 miles in less than 147 hours. This walk was made in England, and won Weston the famous Ashley belt, which he holds today. The feat he accomplished last year of walking from Philadelphia to New York in 23 hours with only thirty minutes repose, is fresh in everybody's mind.

All long distance men, Weston suffers most of all from foot trouble. Each night when he halts his feet are in bad condition from the fifty-mile jaunt. As the journey lengthens this condition grows worse, until to the ordinary man it is excruciating agony to put on or remove the shoes, but Weston is a man of iron, and only walks the harder when his feet hurt him the worst. If he succeeds in equalling the Portland-Chicago record of forty years ago—1,234 miles in twenty-six days—Weston will indeed be hailed as the greatest athlete in all the world.

ADMIRAL SPERRY

DEFENDS CRUISE.

Says Fleet Needs Team Work Like Ball Nine; Will Test Resources of Ships.

New York, Nov. 7.—Rear Admiral Charles S. Sperry, U. S. N., who will command the fourth division of the battleship fleet on its cruise to the Pacific, and who has just returned from abroad, says the cruise has a perfectly legitimate and evident object. "A fleet of battleships is a good deal like a base ball team; its effectiveness depends very largely on the manner in which the individual members work in concert," said he. "To determine the effectiveness of a fleet it is necessary for the ships to work together. The captains must come to know one another."

"It is a most important consideration that there be a chance to test the ships' own resources in the matter of motive power and repairs. Still another valuable gain will be the chance it will give the young men of the navy to see the world."

HURTS SALE OF MEDICINE

Simple Recipe for Home Made Kidney Cure

ANYONE CAN PREPARE IT

Relieves Nearly Every Person Who Tries It—Makes the Kidneys Act and Overcome Rheumatism and Bladder Trouble.

To make up enough of the "dandelion treatment," which is claimed to be relieving nearly every sufferer who uses it for backache, kidney complaint, sore weak bladder and rheumatism; get from any good prescription pharmacy one ounce Compound Kidney Dandelion, one ounce Compound Keton and three ounces Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Those who have tried it claim that it acts gently but thoroughly on the kidneys, relieving backache and bladder trouble and urinary difficulties almost instantly. Many cases of rheumatism are known to have been relieved within a few days, the pain and swelling diminishing with each dose.

A well-known local druggist, who is in a position to know, asserts that this prescription, wherever it becomes known, always ruins the sale of the numerous patent medicine rheumatism cures, kidney cures, etc. It is a recipe which the majority of patent medicine manufacturers, and even certain physicians, dislike to see published. Few cases, indeed, which will fail to fully yield to its peculiarly soothing and healing influence. Being composed of common every-day ingredients, which can be had from any druggist, it makes up a good, honest and harmless remedy and at nominal cost.

IS "PLUPPY" SHUTE AGAIN AT HIS TRICKS?

Exeter Hydrants Decorated With White Bows, and Author of "Dairy of a Real Boy" Is Suspected.

Exeter, N. H., Nov. 7.—Has "Pluppy" Shute renewed his youth and begun again to play tricks for the delight of the people of Exeter?

This question was asked yesterday when the residents of the town discovered that every hydrant and water fixture was decorated with a fine, large white bow. The hydrants were a festive appearance and they seemed almost to smile with glee.

The reason for it could not be guessed until some of the people about town know what is going on spread the news that Charles H. Johnson, superintendent of streets, has just been married to Miss Anne Shute, sister of Judge Henry A. Shute, known throughout the country as the "Pluppy" Shute of the "Dairy of a Real Boy" of which he was the author.

The marriage occurred in East Hampton on Monday, but it became known to Mr. Johnson's friends only Tuesday night. Yesterday morning the decorated water hydrants met the gaze of the academy citizens of the academy town. No date admitted knowledge of the decorations.

Because of "Pluppy" Shute's well-known predilection to ganks in his youthful days, whose events he so entertainingly chronicled, suspicion that he was back of this new one began to spread about the town. It was very noticeable that he frequently referred to his book to this sister, and it is believed that he may have been waiting these years for a chance to play on her a prank that was a really fitting expression of his fraternal feeling.

The marriage occurred at the home of friends of Miss Shute. It was attended by a few close friends.

Mr. Johnson has been at the head of the water works for years. He has been a widower for two years.

STARVED HIMSELF TILL DEAD; HAD PLENTY CASH.

Body of F. O. Nygren, Mysterious Guest in Lowell Hotel; Is Found in His Room; Police Pursued.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 7.—With $25 in money and valuable mining stocks in his pocket Frederick O. Nygren was found dead in his room at the Windsor hotel yesterday, and the cause of his death is given as starvation.

Mystery hangs over the man's death. It is not known where he took his meals or if he had eaten at all during the four weeks he had been in Lowell. He had little or no employment and made no friends.

Nygren had told of his affairs to no one, he made no confidant, and so far as is known, he was without relatives here. He passed a great deal of his time in the room where he was found dead. He had nothing to do with the other roomers.

Why the man should starve to death while he had sufficient money to buy food and possessed stock which he could have sold at a good price is a mystery which the police are trying to solve.

He is supposed to have lived in Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and the middle West. He was about 50 years old.

COSSACKS OPENED FIRE ON THE PEOPLE.

A STRANGE ACCIDENT.

Minister Caught up Nail Stuck in His Throat For Months.

New York, Nov. 7.—After carrying a two-penny wire single nail in his throat for 16 months, which he swallowed while listening to a funny fish story, and having been treated by a score of specialists for bronchitis, the Rev. Thomas H. Barnagwanth, pastor of Grace Methodist church on One Hundred and Fourth street, coughed it up at a prayer meeting.

"I knew it was the nail that was in my bronchial tube all the time," the minister said. "I felt it stick when it went down. It scratched."

"I have a longation in the Adirondacks, near Tupper lake, and it was there that I swallowed it. I was putting around the place, and this nail was the last I had to drive. I had it between my lips when I stopped to listen to a fish tale. No; it wasn't the tale about the whale. That is a great fishing country up there, and you can hear as good yarns in it as ever were told."

HOLDING UP PENSION VOUCHERS.

National Banks Hesitating to Cash Them.

Word reached the Treasury Department yesterday that because of reluctance to part with the currency they have on hand, national banks throughout the country are declining to cash pension vouchers, thus disturbing officers' draft and other obligations of the government. Treasurer Treat took measures to relieve the condition of affairs and sent telegraphic advices to all the sub-treasuries to make prompt payment in currency to all persons holding such checks or drafts of what may be due them. These advices were as follows:

"Any national bank forwarding to any sub-treasury office checks of United States disbursing officers including pension checks for payment thereof, if properly indorsed when presented and said endorsement guaranteed by any national bank, currency will be shipped in payment thereof by express."
